

26/02/2014

Press Review

FFF Economy

The Telegraph

Britain's growth prospects upgraded by European Commission

European Commission now expects the UK to grow by 2.5pc in 2014, compared with a forecast of 2.2pc in November.

RTT News

Swiss Consumption Indicator Drops In January: UBS

Consumption among Swiss households decreased in the beginning of the year, reversing much of the gain seen in December, amid widespread weakness across business sectors, survey data released by the UBS revealed Wednesday.

>>> Currencies

Daily FX

Dollar, Yen May Rise on Soft US Data and Pro-Taper Rhetoric

A revised set of fourth-quarter UK GDP figures headlines the economic calendar in European hours.

FX Street

GBP/USD: consolidating gains

Little changed from previous updates, the GBP/USD consolidates its latest gains around 1.6690 Fibonacci level, still unable to advance albeit clearly bullish.

Image: Top Videos

Euronews

► Turkish premier under fire for alleged taped evidence of financial corruption

Protests erupted in Istanbul and Ankara on Tuesday after news broke of tape recordings, allegedly of Turkish Prime Minister...

Reuters

In China's big cities, it's an employee's market

Despite slowing growth and a record crop of university graduates in China this year many businesses are struggling to recruit workers, as higher costs encourage the young to stay close to home.

Politics

Web Pro News

Vitali Klitschko Running For President?

With Ukraine's early elections coming up in a few months, there's already speculation as to who will run.

Aljazeera

Egypt housing minister to form new government

Egypt's outgoing housing minister, Ibrahim Mahlab, is to become the prime minister and form a new government tasked with organising new presidential elections in the next few months.

►►► Markets

MarketWatch

Three warning signs from higher gold prices

It is not often the financial markets reach a consensus. No one can agree whether the euro zone is now fixed or just getting ready for another crisis.

Businessweek

Europe Stocks Fall as Natural Gas Declines; China Shares Gain

European stocks retreated from a six-year high while Chinese shares led gains in emerging markets. U.S. equity-index futures signaled the gauge will rise and natural gas extended its biggest decline in six years.

Katharina Pistor

Legal authority and deep power implications

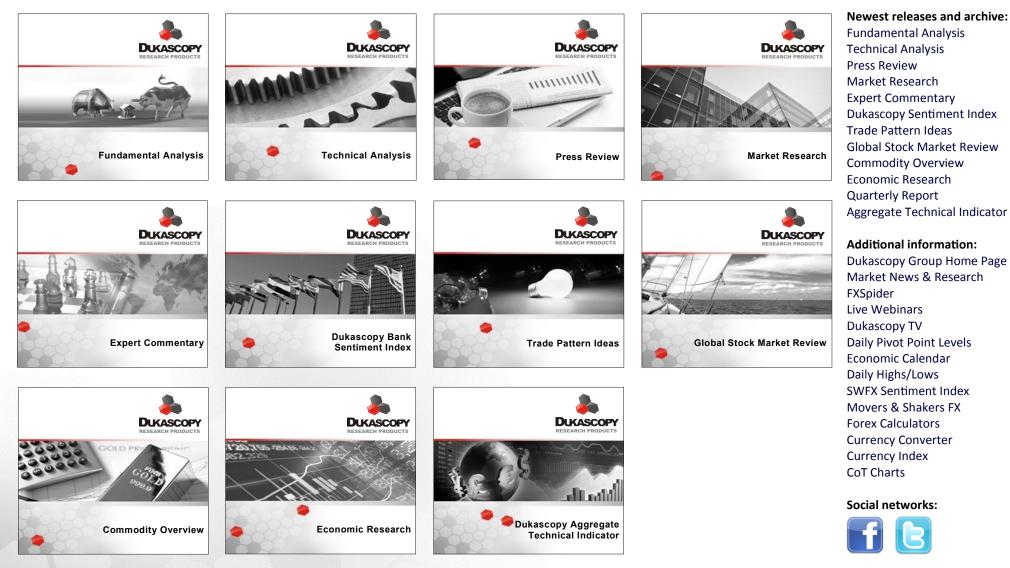

Can the European Central Bank legally act as lender of last resort to ensure the survival of the euro?

Livemint

The high cost of policy uncertainty

The damage that policy uncertainty has wreaked on business confidence has rarely been properly understood in India.

Disclaimer

Everything in this article, including opinions and figures, is provided for informational purposes only and may not be interpreted as financial advice or solicitation of products. Dukascopy group assume no responsibility for the completeness or the accuracy of any data contained in this article. Financial figures indicated in this article have not been verified by the Dukascopy group. Views, opinions and analyses are those of the author of the article, and are not endorsed by the Dukascopy group.

Dukascopy group waive any and all warranties, express or implied, regarding, but without limitation to, warranties of the merchantability or the fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to all information in this article. Dukascopy group shall under no circumstances be responsible for any direct, indirect, consequential, contingent or any other damages sustained in connection with the use of this article.

Dukascopy Bank SA, Route de Pre-Bois 20, International Center Cointrin, Entrance H, 1215 Geneva 15, Switzerland tel: +41 (0) 22 799 4888, fax: +41 (0) 22 799 4880