

Higher Time Frame

We have three consecutive red candles and the whole movement of these candles exceeds the threshold given by the strategy (blue line). Therefore we're changing the time frame at point A (after the close price of the third red candle).

Lower Time Frame

This Doji exceeding the lower BBand needs to appear during the next minute after the closing of our third red candle. And this particular minute is represented by point A on the higher time frame.