

After changing „default Instrument“ and „default TakeProfit“ these variables disappeared in the „Default Variables“ section and appeared instead in the „User's variables“ section.

After saving the strategy, the above-mentioned variables disappeared completely (please see next screenshot). This leads to the problem, that the strategy doesn't even start in backtests, because the instrument is now missing in the strategy, too. I'm aware, that it is not only possible, to change instrument and TP in the default section, but also in the respective block of the strategy. I did that, but again: not even a backtest started.
