

31/08/2016

Press Review

Economy

WBP Online

Why London Won't Lose Its Crown as Europe's Financial Capital

Following the Brexit vote, the race to succeed London as Europe's financial capital is on. "We know that groups based in the City are planning to leave for Dublin, Amsterdam, Frankfurt and Paris," the French prime minister

Economic Calendar

Eurozone August Flash CPI Rate below Expectations at 0.2%

According to Eurostat's flash reading of Eurozone consumer inflation, the annual reading is expected to 0.2% for August, unchanged from the July rate and slightly below the expected 0.3% consensus forecast.

Currencies

Marc to Market

Dollar Bides Times, Month-End at Hand, Jobs Data Ahead

The US dollar is a little softer against most of the major and emerging market currencies.

Reuters

Fed's Evans, citing slow growth, says low U.S. rates are here to stay

Chicago Federal Reserve Bank President Charles Evans on Wednesday said he is increasingly convinced that U.S. economic growth has slowed permanently, a situation that will keep U.S. interest rates low for a long time ahead.

Image: Top Videos

CNBC

Stocks cling to August gains ahead of final trading day

Futures were little changed as the Dow, S&P 500, and Nasdaq try to hold onto August gains ahead of the month's last trading session today.

Bloomberg

EU Apple Tax Ruling and the Future of European Business

The European Union ruling on Apple's Irish tax bill has raised questions on business in the nation and the potential end of easy European corporate tax deals.

Politics

The Guardian

Dilma Rousseff impeachment: what you need to know

Brazil's Senate is expected to vote on Wednesday to oust Dilma Rousseff from the presidency, following an impeachment process that has seen her suspended from office since May.

RT

► Turkey says Germany's remarks on EU accession amount to 'cultural racism'

A statement by Germany's European commissioner saying that Ankara's EU bid is "unrealistic" while president Erdogan is in power has been described as "cultural racism" by Turkey's Minister of EU Affairs...

►►► Markets

Investing

Oil slips on dollar strength, still set for monthly gain

Crude oil prices slid on Wednesday, pressured by a strong U.S. dollar and high stocks of physical oil, though prices remained on track for a monthly gain of more than 10 percent.

RTT News

Wall Street Awaits ADP Private Payrolls Data Amid Rate Fears

Early indications suggest that Wall Street persists with its nervous mood on Wednesday, as the Fed has left the door open for another rate hike before the end of the year.

Description

John J Hardy

The clock is ticking for success at G20 Hangzhou summit

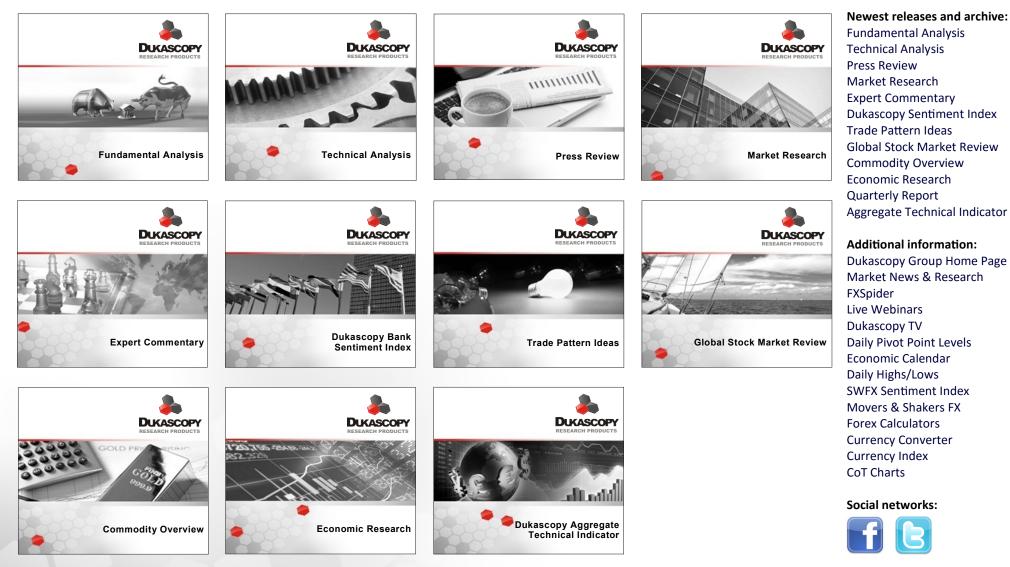

In a few days, China will host one of its most important diplomatic events in recent years, the G20 leader's summit, taking place on September 4-5 in the beautiful city of Hangzhou.

Barbara Kollmeyer

Here's the big mistake oil investors can't stop making

Goodbye, August, and don't let the door hit you on the way out. The S&P 500 index could be in for a whopping 0.3% gain this month, which means the beach bums didn't miss much.

Disclaimer

Everything in this article, including opinions and figures, is provided for informational purposes only and may not be interpreted as financial advice or solicitation of products. Dukascopy group assume no responsibility for the completeness or the accuracy of any data contained in this article. Financial figures indicated in this article have not been verified by the Dukascopy group. Views, opinions and analyses are those of the author of the article, and are not endorsed by the Dukascopy group.

Dukascopy group waive any and all warranties, express or implied, regarding, but without limitation to, warranties of the merchantability or the fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to all information in this article. Dukascopy group shall under no circumstances be responsible for any direct, indirect, consequential, contingent or any other damages sustained in connection with the use of this article.

Dukascopy Bank SA, Route de Pre-Bois 20, International Center Cointrin, Entrance H, 1215 Geneva 15, Switzerland tel: +41 (0) 22 799 4888, fax: +41 (0) 22 799 4880