

12/12/2016

Press Review

Economy

Investing

China launches WTO complaint against U.S., EU over dumping rules

China said on Monday it had launched a complaint at the World Trade Organization over the approach used by the United States and European Union to calculate anti-dumping measures against Chinese exports.

Economic Calendar

UK October Leading Indicators Increase 0.1%

The Conference Board index of UK leading indicators rose 0.1% for October following a revised reading of unchanged for September, which was originally reported as a 0.1% increase.

Currencies

FXStreet

EUR/USD extends strong recovery move beyond 1.0600 handle

The EUR/USD pair held on to strong recovery gains above 1.0600 handle and has now reversed all of Friday's losses recorded in the aftermath of dovish ECB taper.

Marc to Market

Dollar and Yen Trade Lower to Start the Week

The US dollar and Japanese yen are trading lower. The tone is largely consolidative, and the foreign exchange market is not main focus today.

Image: Top Videos

CNBC

Dow and S&P open with another record high CNBC's Dominic Chu looks ahead at the day's market action.

Bloomberg

Dow Hits Record Highs, Can Equities Continue Run?

Bloomberg's Joe Weisenthal and Lisa Abramowicz report on the markets and the Dow hitting records.

Politics

China org.

Italy's Gentiloni named as PM for transitional government

Italy's outgoing Foreign Minister Paolo Gentiloni was named as new prime minister on Sunday for a transitional government, following the resignation of Matteo Renzi from the post earlier this week.

China Daily

► Trump rejects intelligence agencies' allegations of Russian election hacking

US President-elect Donald Trump said he doesn't believe the allegations by the US intelligence agencies that the Russian government helped him win the White House via election-related cyberattacks.

►►► Markets

RTT

Stocks May Lack Direction Ahead Of Fed Announcement

Following the rally seen last week, stocks may show a lack of direction in early trading on Monday.

The Business Times

Oil prices surge on output deal

World oil prices surged Monday after non-Opec producers struck a deal to cut output, while Europe's main stock markets were subdued before a key Fed meeting due this week.

Dinions

Andre Spicer

The cult of compulsory happiness is ruining our workplaces

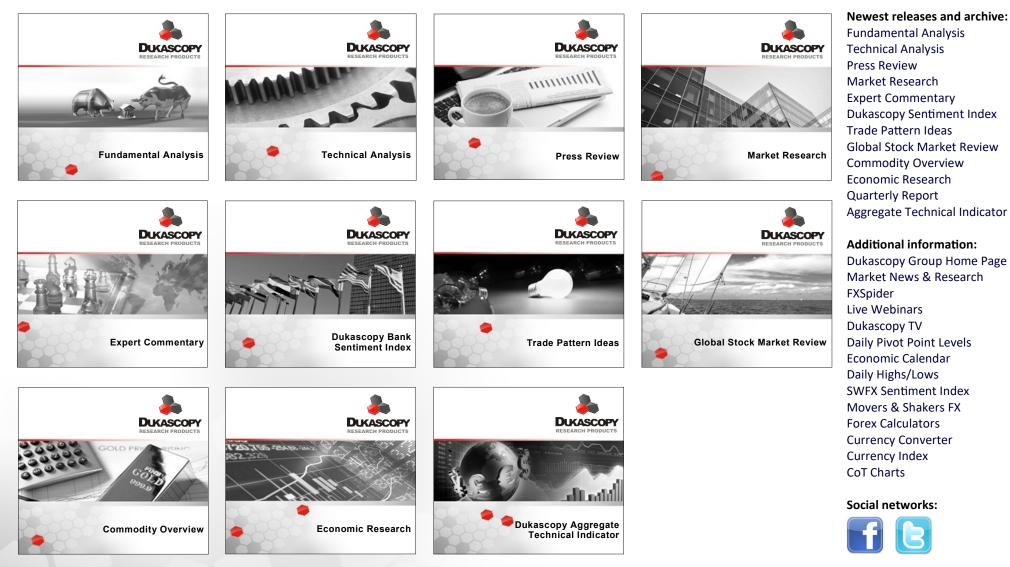

In their quest to make employees happier, companies around the world have been busy installing play equipment in the workplace.

Ben Blanchard

Talking to Trump's team: China's high-flying U.S. expert

China's top diplomat, who recently met a senior adviser to U.S. Presidentelect Donald Trump, is a high-flying former Chinese ambassador to Washington with a deep understanding of U.S. politics, a country he has clashed with, too.

Disclaimer

Everything in this article, including opinions and figures, is provided for informational purposes only and may not be interpreted as financial advice or solicitation of products. Dukascopy group assume no responsibility for the completeness or the accuracy of any data contained in this article. Financial figures indicated in this article have not been verified by the Dukascopy group. Views, opinions and analyses are those of the author of the article, and are not endorsed by the Dukascopy group.

Dukascopy group waive any and all warranties, express or implied, regarding, but without limitation to, warranties of the merchantability or the fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to all information in this article. Dukascopy group shall under no circumstances be responsible for any direct, indirect, consequential, contingent or any other damages sustained in connection with the use of this article.