

13/02/2017

Press Review

Economy

Business Insider

Britain's companies warn that there could be an EU worker exodus this year

More than a quarter of employers in Britain say staff members from other European Union countries have considered leaving their firms or the country in 2017 after last year's Brexit vote, an industry group said on Monday.

China Daily

China January consumer prices likely to rise modestly

China's consumer prices will likely to rise modestly in January as declining fruit and egg costs offset increases in grain prices.

Currencies

FXStreet

EUR/USD extends the bounce towards 100-DMA

The EUR/USD pair made a solid comeback from near four-week troughs, with the bulls now accelerating the upside in a bid to conquer 100-DMA located at 1.0683.

RTT News

Yen Falls As Japan GDP Expands Less-than-expected

The Japanese yen weakened against the other major currencies in the Asian session on Monday, after data showed that the Japanese economy expanded less than expected for the fourth straight quarter of 2016.

Image: Second S

CNBC

IMF's Lagarde: Reasons to be optimistic about US growth

IMF Managing Director Christine Lagarde gives her views on the U.S.' economic growth story while commenting on the oil market.

Bloomberg

Why Markets Seem to See Constructive Trump, Abe Meet

Simon Derrick, chief currency strategist at Bank of New York Mellon weighs in on market reaction to the meeting between U.S. President Donald Trump and his Japanese counterpart Shinzo Abe.

Politics

Business Recorder

Trump and Trudeau: what will happen at first tete-a-tete?

Donald Trump hosts Justin Trudeau at the White House Monday in what is a delicate visit for the Canadian prime minister, who hopes to get a compromise from the US president on free trade while making his point on immigration.

International Business Times

North Korea War? South Korea Plans Ballistic Missile Test In Retaliation To Kim Jong Un's Missile Launch

South Korea is considering test-firing a ballistic missile in response to North Korea's medium-range ballistic missile test early Sunday into the East Sea...

►►► Markets

Reuters

'Trump trades' on boost to economic growth come back with a bang

World stocks and bond yields rose on Monday, lifted by a re-emergence of so-called "Trump trades" as investors bet that the U.S. president's tax reform plans will boost economic growth and corporate profits.

Market Watch

U.K. stocks edge up to fresh 4-week high

U.K. stocks edged higher Monday, as analysts said markets worldwide were getting support from U.S. President Donald Trump taking a more conventional stance toward key trade partners.

Dinions

Marc Chandler

Yellen's Path Cleared By Trump's Newfound Moderation

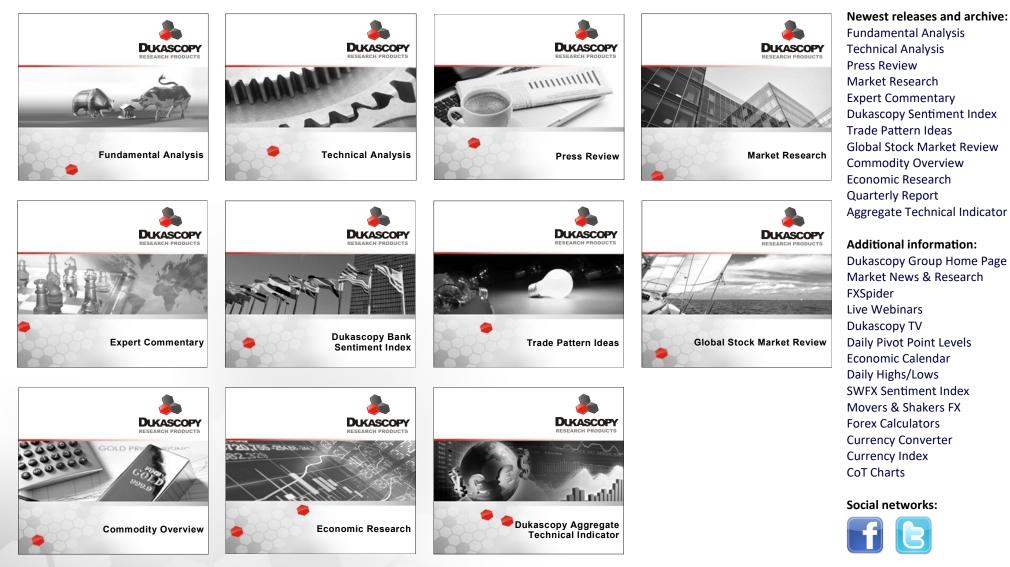

There is a lull in the maelstrom launched by the Trump Administration. His ban on immigrants from seven of the ten Muslim-majority countries in the Middle East has been stymied by the judicial system that has emerged as a check on the assertion of executive authority but is on its way to the...

James Picerno

US inflation expectations shift higher

The week begins with a quiet day for scheduled economic releases. While we're waiting for fresh numbers, let's review three cases of upside momentum in markets, starting with US inflation expectations, based on Treasury yield...

Disclaimer

Everything in this article, including opinions and figures, is provided for informational purposes only and may not be interpreted as financial advice or solicitation of products. Dukascopy group assume no responsibility for the completeness or the accuracy of any data contained in this article. Financial figures indicated in this article have not been verified by the Dukascopy group. Views, opinions and analyses are those of the author of the article, and are not endorsed by the Dukascopy group.

Dukascopy group waive any and all warranties, express or implied, regarding, but without limitation to, warranties of the merchantability or the fitness for a particular purpose, with respect to all information in this article. Dukascopy group shall under no circumstances be responsible for any direct, indirect, consequential, contingent or any other damages sustained in connection with the use of this article.